For many students neurological and/or emotional disorders prevent optimum learning. By understanding these "road blocks" and how we can help students overcome them will result in higher levels of success.

After this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Explain the various aspects of Autism Spectrum Disorder and what to expect when working with a student with this diagnosis.
- Explain the various aspects of ADD and ADHD and what to expect when supporting a student with this diagnosis.
- Demonstrate strategies that support a student with emotional and/or behavioral challenges in the classroom.

Jane M. Hardin, M.Ed. is head of Ribas Associates Department of Special Education. For the past 23 years, Jane was a member of the Simmons University Faculty. Jane is the author of the books Social-Emotional Learning in the Classroom and Social-Emotional Learning in the Home. In addition, she also presents on the topics: Impact of Trauma on Learning, Teaching and Working Effectively with Students with ASD, Executive Function, Emotional and Neurological Concerns, and Disabling Conditions That Impact Student Learning. Jane is also the Vice-Chair of the MA Architectural Access Board.
